- B. Dean Peters highlighted two items for the 2017-19 budget. (a) One-time funds are available for high-demand degree programs, and CEAS has put in two proposals. One proposal is specifically for engineering to obtain funds to increase capacity in bottleneck laboratory courses, a pilot accelerated program for high-achieving students, and expansion of the student success center. The second program involved IT and is in conjunction with other campus units. (b) The compensation plan will be based primarily on solid performance, with smaller amounts of money to be distributed on merit by executive committees and the dean, provost, and chancellor. Recommendations from CEAS are due in early January.
- C. The Curriculum Committee will be considering the possibility of moving more engineering courses to the early years of the curriculum. There will also be consideration of how we may best structure programs with the newly-joined UW-Waukesha and UW-Washington County campuses.
- D. The mandatory security awareness training is to be completed by today.
- E. Provost Britz will be at the December CEAS faculty meeting.
- F. Prof. Lopez announced that the Awards and Recognition Committee has reworked the CEAS awards, and will be requesting nominations for the faculty teaching, research, and service awards and the outstanding student award. These nominations will most likely be due in February. See Attachment 1 for more details on the awards.

- G. Ms. Audrey Salazar and Prof. Carol Hirschmugl made a presentation on how the UWM Research Foundation can assist faculty, particularly with respect to the commercialization of new products stemming from research. Prof. Hirschmugl relayed her experiences in starting a new business based on her research discoveries.

V. GENERAL GOOD AND WELFARE

Prof. Boyland informed faculty that if they have comments or concerns regarding SAAP S.47 and S.47.5, they should relay them to Kris O'Connor, the Chair of the University Committee.

Prof. Petering informed the faculty that the APC will be making recommendations to the dean on the use of the funds he controls with regards to pay increases.

Prof. A. Rahman suggested that CEAS should be educating faculty on how to appropriately use graduate students and TAs. Associate Dean Munson indicated that CEAS may have a listening session with graduate students to gain a better understanding of their concerns.

Prof. Petering asked about the dean's grand vision for CEAS with regards to securing some of the funds being made available to programs in high-demand majors. Dean Peters responded that the college has put forth proposals to obtain funds for increasing the capacity of certain laboratory courses, a pilot program for accelerated students, and increasing retention through an enhanced student success center.

REQUIREMENTS FOR MEMBERSHIP ON THE GRADUATE FACULTY

Original version approved by CEAS Faculty on February 25, 1998.

Revised version:

GFC Document #1173 states that departments and programs may establish criteria for Graduate Faculty Status that are more stringent than GFC policy. All other aspects of the process for granting and removing Graduate Faculty Status are found in GFC Document #1173.

CEAS faculty are eligible for UWM graduate faculty status under the following criteria:

NEW MEMBERS.

1. Earned doctoral degree,
and
2. Evidence of scholarly work such as published articles in refereed engineering or scientific journals,
and
3. Holding a tenured or tenure track position.

CONTINUING MEMBERS:

Continuing members must also satisfy the following criteria in addition to those listed above for new members.

During the last 3 years,

1. participated in scholarly or creative activities such as publication of refereed articles, patents, or software,
and
2. taught at least one U/G or G course, or served as the chair of a MS or PhD thesis/dissertation committee.

Changes from 1998 version:

Continuing Members:

- (1) Item 2 above combines the items 1 and 3 from the 1998 version.
- (2) Previously, “and” had been “or” between the three items.

CEAS Committee Representative Replacement Policy

1. Representatives from departments on the CEAS Curriculum Committee, Graduate Program Subcommittee, and the Scholastic Appeals Committee are to be appointed by their departments for a 2-year term, as designated in the committee charters. Representatives to the CEAS Academic Planning Committee are to be appointed for 3-year terms.
2. If a departmental representative is unable to complete their term, the department may designate a replacement to complete the original term. The department chairperson should communicate this change to the Secretary of the CEAS Faculty. The Secretary of the CEAS Faculty will communicate this to the appropriate individuals. However, in order to preserve committee continuity, appointments should be made with the intention of the faculty member completing their term.
3. If a departmental representative is unable to attend a particular meeting, the department may designate a substitute representative for the department at that meeting. The department chairperson should communicate this substitute to the committee chair and the Secretary of the CEAS Faculty at least 1 hour in advance of the start of the meeting.
 - a. The substitute representative is entitled to participate fully in the meeting.
 - b. The substitute is to be considered a voting member of the committee for that meeting, and is to be counted towards the determination of quorum.
 - c. The substitute is considered the department representative for only the designated meeting. The use of the substitute should be communicated separately for each meeting where he/she is to be the department representative.
 - d. If both the department representative and the designated substitute are present at the meeting, the appointed departmental representative is to be considered the department's representative, and the substitute has no special standing with the committee (i.e., he/she is to be treated as a non-voting faculty member).
4. If the department representative to a committee is on sabbatical or a leave of absence of a duration of 1 semester or less, the department may designate a substitute for that entire period, without communicating the substitution for each individual meeting. If the representative's sabbatical or leave of absence is to be more than one semester, the department should designate a replacement as described in (2) above.
